DETAILED ACTIONContinued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 1/26/2005 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The new matter is wherein in the fully tightened position the gasket has an inside diameter less than the diameter of the opening passageway. The original disclosure fails to provide support for "in the fully tightened position the gasket has an inside diameter less than the diameter of the opening passageway".

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 3679

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites the limitation "in the fully tightened position" in line 12. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

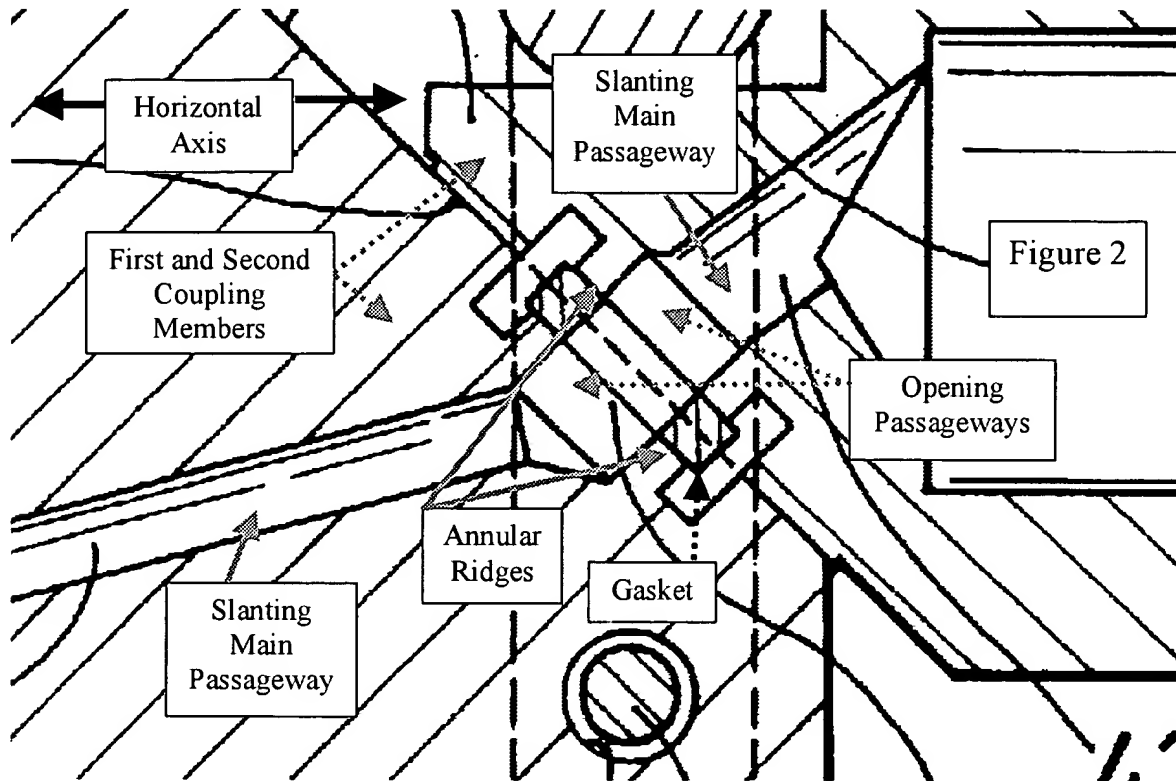

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US patent 5967489, Nakazawa et al in view of US patent 5505464, McGarvey.

In regards to claim 1, in figure 2 below, as best understood, Nakazawa et al discloses a fluid coupling comprising first and second coupling members having respective gasket holding annular ridges on butting end faces thereof; and an annular gasket interposed between the first and second coupling members, wherein each coupling member has a fluid channel comprising an opening passageway orthogonal to the butting end face thereof, and a slanting main passageway communicating therewith, the opening passageway having a diameter equal to the inside diameter of the gasket holding annular ridge, and the gasket holding annular ridges are in contact with the gasket at its radial midportion so as (capable) to relieve the inner peripheral portion of the gasket from stress concentration and wrinkles.

Nakazawa et al does not disclose the gasket holding annular ridges being rounded as to be in contact with the gasket only at its radial midpoint. In Figure 6, McGarvey teaches gasket holding annular ridges (76, 78) being rounded as to be in contact with the gasket (52) only at its radial midpoint to produce a minimum dead zone volume condition (col. 1, lines 45-64). As McGarvey relates to face-seal fitting employing a metal gasket, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art the time the invention was made to fabricate rounded gasket holding annular ridges as to be in contact with the gasket only at its radial midpoint to produce a minimum dead zone volume condition, as taught by McGarvey.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12/9/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).
